Gail McWilliams is a seasoned international speaker, multi-published author, and national radio host. Her courageous and gripping story of gradually losing her eyesight having her five children is the backdrop to her life message of vision that sees no limits. Gail is a voice of hope that has learned to overcome major obstacles with faith and joy. She captivates women and inspires them to live life on purpose, with purpose. She is a resilient visionary, who inspires action and delivers renewed focus. She motivates women to live beyond limitations. Gail is humorous, intensely challenging, and completely unforgettable.

Gail believes it is possible for women to soar to new summits by receiving the encouragement they need to maximize life. She customizes her life message to complement the vision of any host organization and is comfortable with multiple presentations upon request.

SPEAKER

- WENDY THAYER, Women's Pastor, New Life Church

RADIO HOST

“She takes away every excuse for not living life to the fullest, for not living each day with joy and for not doing everything we can to accomplish what God's great plan is for our lives. I highly recommend the ministry of Gail McWilliams and encourage you to be prepared for a life-changing experience.”

- JOAN TEROLLER, Administrative Assistant to Rev. Sam Rijfkoel, Senior Pastor Grand Rapids First Assembly of God

AUTHOR

“Gail's story of hope, courage and faith in God in the midst of her circumstances is truly inspiring. Every woman who attended was encouraged to keep moving forward in faith despite what they might be facing in their lives.”

- KATIE SACRISITE, Leading Ladies Director

“Gail is a wonderful example, mentor, teacher, and leader for women of all ages. Her delivery is real, interesting, and useful. As you experience Gail, you leave not only admiring her but with tools you can incorporate into your life. Her gift of encouraging others shines through her presentation and will be beneficial for all.”

- SANDY HEILMAN, Vice President, Electronic Distribution & Marketing, LaQuinta

MOST POPULAR PRESENTATIONS

HOPE FOR LIFE

In this presentation, Gail McWilliams will share her life story and her inspiring journey of overcoming challenges and loss. Her joyful spin with her disarming humor will motivate any audience to see that nothing is impossible when you live with purpose. She contends "hope always sees."

Gail compels others to live with vision and not merely by what they see. In this presentation Gail will cover:

- The Heart of the issue.
- Obstacles and what to do with them.
- Placement and positions are strategic.
- Evidences of your success and legacy will impact generations yet to come.

Gail McWilliams story has been shared around the globe and speaks to all ages and genders that, "When you choose to look past the horizon, the sky's the limit!"

B12...DOSES OF ENCOURAGEMENT

Gail is the "B12" shot that energizes and captures women with her humor, challenge and life message. At the B12 you will be motivated to engage in living and not merely surviving. You will learn that obstacles only breed creativity. You will discover desires, dreams, and gifts hidden under life's debris. You will be refocused on a view of life that you may have overlooked. Dream, hope, and laugh again!

The 3 sessions consist of

- Be - People juggle more than just schedules, because they're wondering what they should be. Added to this challenge is the challenge of what everyone else thinks you should be. What if you found the gift just to be.
- One - How many times have you said, "One day I'm going to . . ." And then fill in the blank. What stands in the way of today? This session will give you practical steps how to live the dream you thought was for another day.
- Too - Do you find yourself saying things are too hard, too difficult, or too confusing? Often, the solutions you seek are standing in your blind spot. This session will help you see the multiplied possibilities you have failed to see until now.

SEEING BEYOND

Many overlook the true riches of life, failing to embrace the day. Eyes that merely see are common, but rare are the eyes that "see beyond."

Everyone has something in his or her life to see beyond. Life's challenges and disappointments often blur our vision and cause us to lose focus on our journey. Gail will help you to see beyond the mundane of daily routine, schedules, and work. Instead, you will be challenged to see the potential, purpose, and promise of the position you currently hold.

Three areas Gail will address in the small word "SEE" are:

S- Seizing the day knowing that it is the preparation for tomorrow's promotion. You have been strategically positioned for this hour.

E - Equip and enhance your skills, gifts, potential and purpose. She will discuss practical skills and ideas that will make it easy to go to the next level.

E - Enjoying the journey. Correcting attitudes and recognizing blind spots will be the keys to moving forward. There is more beyond what you can see.

Gail McWilliams contends, "When you choose to look past the horizon... the sky is the limit." Don't be surprised if she asks you, "What do YOU see?"

JOY IN THE JOURNEY

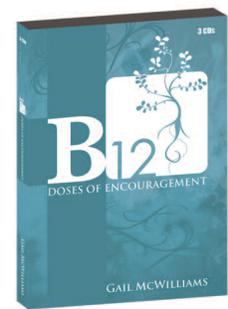

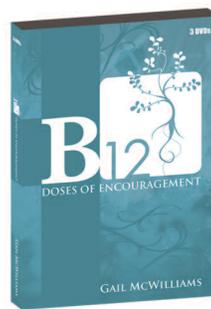

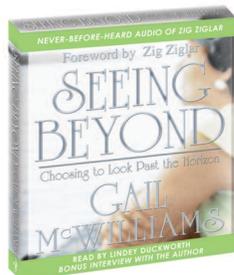

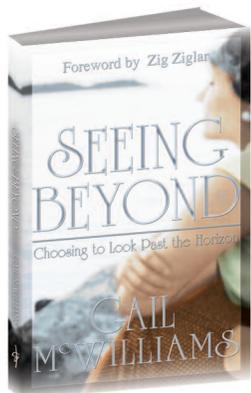

Gail believes that most people merely exist and survive, but never engage in living. The difference can come when you find joy in the journey. The regrets of yesterday, along with the fear of today, often bring a dread for tomorrow. But what if there's more? Gail will help you to see beyond today's obstacles, barriers, and challenges, knowing that joy will be an undercurrent in the middle of it all.

Gail will help you identify:

- What Steals Your Joy and Why
- How to Have Joy With Each New Day
- The Benefits of Contagious Joy

You will marvel when you hear Gail's story, how she gradually lost her eyesight with each of her children, yet has uncommon joy in the middle of her loss.
